Exhibition Wall

Heroes: Uniting a Nation explores the inspiration behind our popular comic book superheroes. A reflection of the real world where superheroes are beacons of hope that people can rely on. The exhibit begins with a section dedicated to the history of Marvel and DC comics followed by narratives ranging from immigration, civil rights, war propaganda, feminism, and the atomic age.

EEDC Poster

Emancipation Economic Development Council (EEDC) is a collaborative non profit group in Houston's historic Third Ward. Their goal is to revitalize and preserve the history and culture of this Ward. This poster brochure is a tool to engage the locals about the importance of Third Ward's community and culture.

Coming Soon

Coming soon is a collaboration between University of Houston Architecture and Graphic Design students to raise awareness about the historical significance of Houston's Third Ward community and its future.

RHIBO

Add character to your desk with Rhibo, a pen holder inspired by the northern white rhinoceros. With only three left in existence, this pen holder serves as a reminder of the fragility of our ecosystem. Made with laser-cut wood, rhibo can be painted, engraved or drawn to add to its personality. Rhibo not only holds your pens and pencils, it can serve as a phone stand and with its magnetic surface you can attach small metal trinkets on its side.
